A Mix of History and Culture

In Ascension Parish there is a smooth blending of cultures and backgrounds that sweetens the attraction here, indulging the senses in countless ways. From the brilliant colors in The Gardens of Houmas House to the vivid color in an Alvin Batiste painting. From the explosion of flavors experienced at the Jambalaya Festival to the explosion in retail at Tanger and locally owned shops. From the stories told in the River Road African American Museum to Louisiana's second largest historic district and two sugarcane distilleries, there's just so much to see, taste, experience and savor in Ascension Parish.
